

Lincoln County Schools Will Operate On A One-Hour Delay For Students On Wednesday, October 2

Lincoln County Schools

LINCOLNTON, N.C. - Lincoln County Schools will operate on a one-hour delay for students on Wednesday, October 2 to allow for safer travel in the daylight for bus and car riders. All staff should report at normal time as safely as you can. Buses will run exactly one hour later than normal. High school students should report to first period, then resume a normal schedule. LCST students should report to your home school for first period. Breakfast and lunch will be available, but the options may be different from what is posted on the menu.

In addition, Pumpkin Center Primary and Pumpkin Center Intermediate Schools are still closed due to having no power. PCP and PCI students will have a remote learning day. PCP and PCI students and staff should refer to the email from your principal for further directions.

Thank you for your patience and understanding during this time.
